Come reconnect with friends and neighbors who love Sturgeon Bay. Celebrate being part of an amazing community! Enjoy snacks, drinks and conversation. Invite your friends, too!

The Judge has ruled and the DNR has just been asked for their help. Now Sturgeon Bay has a real chance for an amazing waterfront showing our Tugs, our Bridges, our Granary, our Brand. And the fight to protect our public land here is a fight to protect all public land.

Yesterday the judge’s final ruling was signed. This makes clear the injunction on parcel 92 - that all or most of parcel 92, the historical granary dock, it is in the public trust. The injunction is subject to the normal DNR process of establishing the Ordinary High Water Mark (OHWM) and whether any portion of parcel 92 near Maple St is determined to be above OHWM.

Yesterday also a Petition for Declaratory Ruling for normal OHWM determination on parcel 92 was delivered to the DNR. This is what the public have been asking for, for two years. The normal process should include a public hearing and opportunity for review. The attached map shows parcel 92, along with platted historical shorelines.

See the new documents and more information at www.friendsofsturgeonbaypublicwaterfront.com.

Please join us next Wednesday evening and bring all your questions. We will have a table of documents and maps on hand.

The greatest part of this endeavor has been our community enthusiasm and commitment to the warm, wonderful, vibrant town that Sturgeon Bay can be, and we all look forward to an evening together.
