Evenston, returned home Wednesday from Marinette, where she had been visiting with her sister, Mrs. Axel F. Peterson.

The social dance at Bourdaleis' hall Monday evening, given by John Eckart and other young men, was pretty largely attended and a pleasant time had by the participants.

The schooner Minnie lay at the Washburn dock windbound several days this week. This is the craft off which Captain Peterson lost his life in the Menominee river last fall.

The hill on Maple avenue is being cut down and the earth used for filling at the intersection of that thoroughfare and Union street. This is something that has long been needed.

The foundation for Dr. Kreitzer's new residence is rapidly nearing completion, and work on the superstructure will be commenced in a couple of weeks or less if the elements are favorable.

Frank Baptist and Miss Loretta Barnum were recently married at Menominee. The young people are at present making their home with Mrs. W. H. Watson, who is the mother of the groom. The bride is a step-daughter of Ben. Miller.

The proposition to select a new site for the projected schoolhouse is looked on with considerable favor by many people. A nice, up-to-date building located in some central part of the town certainly would add no little to the appearance of things.

A carload of shingles was this week ship-taken into the engine room of the mill by the watchman Monday night and given something to eat and a warm place to sleep, the father not showing up until Tuesday morning.

There is a difference of about $1,300 between what the assured think they ought to have and what the underwriters are disposed to pay. Mr. Roeser will rebuild the store recently burned as soon as the material therefor can be obtained.

The team of Peter Dufek, Nasewaupée, took fright Tuesday forenoon while near the mill and started up State street at a tearing pace. When opposite the meat market the outfit collided with a pile of wood and partly wrecked the wagon, throwing the driver to the ground and piling the vehicle on top of him. Among the things on the wagon was a cow, and when the crash came the animal was partly liberated, but tore herself loose and escaped uninjured. Another animal was hitched on behind. This poor brute became so frightened that it broke away from its fastenings and made a bee line for home. After running about two miles it was recaptured and brought back.

for a considerable distance overtook Henry Schinkgen, who was returning to Nasa-waupsee with his wife and baby. A collision followed, but the damage was only slight, the animals having evidently become wind- ed by their long flight. Little or no injury resulted to the animals nor vehicles. It was nevertheless a pretty narrow escape from what might have been a serious, if not fatal, accident.

The matter of extending the street at the foot of Maple avenue is something that should be done, according to those who have business interests in that locality. As it is now in order for teams to get onto the Clay Banks road from Maple avenue it is necessary to drive over private property. It is claimed that this is a much-used thor- oughfare and convenient for those who have business at the steamboat dock, lumber yard or elevator. By filling in at the foot of both these streets a connection could soon be made without infringing on the rights of others.

The cabin has been removed from the hull of the old tug Frederick Koehn which lies on the bottom at the foot of Maple avenue and will be placed on the DeFaut property and used as a home for John Serum. The tug was brought here by Dell Cleveland several years ago and last year sold to Chan Schuyler. Part of the hull has been broken up for wood. The water in the bay has receded so much that the old boat is practically on dry land and if that part of the shore is used for a city dump for many years longer it will become covered up in time.

The Maple avenue sewer which empties near the bay at the engine house should be extended to the water's edge. As matters now stand the end of the sewer line is nearly 50 feet from the water, which makes conditions disagreeable to the many people living and employed in that vicinity. The filling of the slip in that vicinity will in time shut off the outlet unless a proper extension is made.

A car load of tiling and sewer pipe was received here this week for the extension on the Little Sturgeon road and also for the extension to the sewer on Maple avenue.

Contractors has the contract to erect the building and do the concrete work. The Knuth Implement company have not decided what they will do in case they are compelled to move but have several sites in view in Sawyer where they may locate.

Work on the extension on the Maple avenue sewer is progressing under the direction of Street Commissioner Hawkey. Owing to the soft nature of the bottom of the bay at this point it was found necessary to place cedar posts on the bottom and lay plank on top, and the 24-inch tiling will be placed on this bed of wood. The sewer will be extended out into the bay about seventy-five feet. The entrance to the engine house has been moved from the south side to the west end of the building and the sidewalk will be removed. This was made necessary on account of the deep ditch made for the extension of the sewer.

Junior high school at which T. A. Sanderson spoke on the manager form of city government, was not well attended. However several of the aldermen were present and considerable information given on the subject.

The city has opened up a gravel or dirt pit at the foot of the hill on Prospect street near the residence of Dr. Kretzer and the earth is being used to fill in at the foot of Maple avenue and Bay street where the sewers have been extended out into the bay. In this manner much of the earth will be removed and the street gradually cut down so it can be used without much cost to the city.

spite of the rocky condition of the ground. The north end of the cut is blocked with some very large boulders of a limestone formation and drilling and blasting has been resorted to to remove them. The drilling outfit owned by L. A. Nebel has been at work drilling for blasting and the boulders have been found to be very hard.

Lester Nebel has the contract to grade down Prospect street and on Monday his new dipper dredge was brought across the bay on a flat car and put to work. The dredge is moved about by means of a caterpillar traction attachment and the one-yard dipper makes quick work of loading the dump wagons and trucks used in moving the dirt. Mr. Nebel expects to complete the work in about five days as it is not expected that any rock will be found. The dirt removed is being used to fill in over the extensions to the sewers at the foot of Maple avenue and Bay street.

to eliminate the bad turns now existing. L. A. Nebel, who graded down the hill on Prospect street, is ready to put his dredge at work on the job, and work may be started at once.

The work of cutting down the hill near the Kreitzer residence was practically completed Tuesday afternoon. The estimate of 4000 yards was nearly correct as when the dirt is all removed to secure the proper grade there will be fully that much. Mr. Nebel took the job at 20 cents a yard and saved the city a goodly sum as the work was done in short order and would have cost twice as much by hand labor. The surplus dirt has been used to build a road-bed along the bay shore from Prospect street to the bath house as there was more than was needed to cover up the sewers on Maple avenue and Union streets.

No One Wants It

The city dump has become a problem child, no one wants it. However, the city fathers have hopes that they will be able to bring about a reform movement that will eliminate all objectionable features, and that the public will no longer have reason to object to its existence.

For years the "city dump" was on the waterfront, only a few blocks from center of the business section. The refuse was used for filling, and no objections were raised. It was shifted from place to place along the waterfront for filling purposes, until eventually it was in Sunset Park, where the first objection was made when the trailer camp was established nearby. Recently it was moved to property owned by the city on the outskirts, but in a residential and farming district, and strong objection arose from the odor of the burning refuse and blowing around of paper and other material. Residents nearby had good reason for objecting, and action by the city council was immediately taken to move the "dump" to a place where it would be more isolated.

One of the objectionable features is the fact that up to the present time the city has not had the proper truck to transport the garbage and as a result it was scattered along the highway. A truck was ordered some time ago, but due to war conditions, delivery has been delayed, but when received this objectionable feature will be eliminated. Consideration is also being given to dispose of much of the garbage by burying it in place of burning it, which would eliminate much of the objectionable odor, and curtail the rat nuisance.

The city is doing a good job in gathering the garbage, but must have better equipment, and remedy the objections raised by residents in regard to disposal of it at the "dump."

the land on the wings of borrowed money.

Today the lid is off, with hundred-billion-dollar budgets and 50-billion-dollar deficits. The court has borrowed its way into an unprecedented boom. As a result, taxes are now making people realize that the government must collect money as well as spend it. 1944 April 21 time prodigality, the same as an individual.

Politicians, Republicans and Democrats all have shied away from a frank discussion of the nation's financial problem, either because the pay envelope of every wage earner is involved, or because they honestly don't know the answers. It is inexcusable when the solvency of the country and the savings of every individual are at stake.

It is futile to claim that we have done our "best" to meet the cost of the war. We have not. We had, we would not now be riding the crest of individual prosperity.

Register Electors in Armed Forces

There was a law passed at the last session of legislature which pertains to "register of electors in armed forces." It requires that the clerk of each city, village and town shall compile and maintain up-to-date list or register of electors therein who are serving in the armed forces. Such registers shall contain the name of the elector and his latest known residence and mail address. It shall include such electors who will become 21 years of age or before November 7, 1944, with a notation as to any who will reach the age after August 15, 1944, but on or prior to November 7, 1944. The clerk may request the assistance of the local draft board, newspapers, and the citizens generally. He shall publish appropriate advertisements in newspaper requesting parents, wives or husbands, relatives and friends of such absent members of the armed forces to furnish their names and latest addresses.

Famines Follow Wars

The Department of Agriculture's tabulation of what farmers intend to plant in 1944, indicates that the so-called guaranteed support prices failed to coax them into seeding more oil crops such as soybeans, peanuts, flaxseed or dietary standbys such as peas, beans and potatoes. edly is one of our most scenic spots in the city and is possibly the least used. A report on this will be made by the city engineer, together with is possible cost to the park and building committee in the near future.

"It was also contemplated in the park project that small improvements be made to beautify the approach to the west end of the bridge; as this has always been a constant "eye-sore," we are going to take this spring to try and improve it. In this connection, the chairman of the park and building committee has received a commitment from the Wisconsin Public Service Corp. that they will install, some time in early April, an ornamental wire fence and plant shrubbery around the poles just at the west end of the bridge. The present business establishment located on the property will be moved to about the middle of the property. In other words, about 300 feet south towards the Co-op and as filling is generated as a result of our construction program through the board of public works this year, we will start filling the area. The trees along the sidewalk on the south side have been cut down and the stumps are to be removed.

A low wall of flat rock will be required about 12 feet south of the sidewalk and the area filled with dirt, after which the Sturgeon Bay Garden club has agreed with the chairman of the park and building committee to plant this entire area with flowers and some shrubs this spring.

"As regards Memorial Field: an agreement was made with Mr. Radke, principal of the high school that they would re-seed the outfield of Memorial Field, inasmuch as the football usage of the field has damaged the turf to such an extent that in spots it is dying off. Population trends were discussed, and it was discovered that Sturgeon Bay has a higher percentage of children and people over 65 than the state average.

The trend toward urbanization, bigger farms and less rural population was also brought out.

Record Budget Adopted by City Council

The Sturgeon Bay city council Tuesday night adopted a budget calling for a tax rate of $48 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. The new tax rate is $1.50 less than the present rate but will result in more taxes being collected.

The assessment levels were raised approximately 20 per cent during the past year, making it possible for citizens to pay higher taxes under a reduced tax rate.

The budget, plus state and county levies, will bring the total amount of taxes to be levied in Sturgeon Bay to $708,384, an increase of approximately $95,000 over the last levy.

Adoption of the budget came after a delegation from the Sturgeon Bay board of education appeared to protest the action taken by the city council in slashing the proposed school tax levy by $23,500. The board asked that the money be restored to the school levy request.

The appeal was to no avail, however, so it appears that the board of education will have to either operate on the money to be made available or go to the council for a deficit appropriation when the tax money for school purposes has been spent.

The tax levy for the 1958 budget is the highest in the history of the city.

The 1957 seal dollars will continue to work toward defeat of tuberculosis. Some will be spent on TB research to find better and quicker ways to treat and prevent the disease, while others will be used for services to patients, their families and to the state's TB hospitals.
